1. INTRODUCTION

Anti-Ragging Week was observed at Girijananda Chowdhury University, Assam from 12th August 2025 to 18th August 2025, as per the directives of the University Grants Commission (UGC). The campaign was undertaken to spread awareness about the harmful effects of ragging, to sensitize students towards mutual respect, and to strengthen the culture of safety and inclusiveness across the campus.

2. OBJECTIVES

- To sensitize students about the psychological, social, and legal implications of ragging.
- To promote a culture of mutual respect, harmony, and inclusiveness among students.
- To inform students about institutional anti-ragging policies, grievance redressal mechanisms, and support systems.
- To encourage student-driven initiatives such as posters, plays, and awareness campaigns to disseminate the message widely.

4. OUTCOME AND IMPACT

The observance of Anti-Ragging Week 2025 had a significant impact on the student community. The ice-breaking session facilitated open dialogue between seniors and juniors, fostering trust and understanding. Poster-making and drama performances provided creative avenues for expressing the adverse consequences of ragging. Student-led initiatives, including videos and discussions, extended the reach of the campaign beyond the event days, making the message more impactful.

The pledge ceremony saw enthusiastic participation from students, faculty, and staff, demonstrating a collective commitment towards maintaining a ragging-free campus. Students showed increased awareness of institutional mechanisms and expressed confidence in seeking support when required.

5. CONCLUSION

Anti-Ragging Week 2025 at Girijananda Chowdhury University was conducted successfully with active participation from students, faculty, and administration. The initiative reinforced the university's dedication towards creating a safe, respectful, and inclusive environment. The institution affirms its continued commitment to the eradication of ragging and to the organization of such sensitization programs on a regular basis.
